

the 2007 DERIVATIVES AWARDS THE NOMINATIONS

Law Firm Of The Year

Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft

Ray Shirazi

Equity derivative dealers point again this year to Cadwalader's structured notes practice as one factor setting the firm apart from its competitors. Adding to an already strong and competent team, the firm hired Steven Lofchie from Davis Polk & Wardwell as a partner late last year. Lofchie was also appointed co-chairman of the firm's securities and financial institutions regulation department. New York partner Ray Shirazi is also named as a strong force within Cadwalader's U.S. structured products business.